ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY STATEMENT

Rev 01

The condition of the environment has a direct impact on the lives of all of us. As a result, SIXENSE Limited recognises the importance of preserving the environment and the right of the future generations to an environment in which they, in turn, can sustain a high quality of life.

Utilising our skills for geotechnical, hydrological, structural and environmental monitoring, SIXENSE Limited can make a positive contribution to improving the environment, by providing information that allows others to adjust their operations to bring about efficiencies and best practice. The company further recognises its responsibility to conduct day to day activities and operations with due consideration for environmental issues.

To underline our commitment to continually improve SIXENSE's environmental performance, we adhere to our Environmental Management System (EMS), where appropriate. The EMS has been developed in accordance with the framework of ISO 14001.

SIXENSE Limited will comply with all applicable environmental legislation, regulations and approved codes of practise, and will furthermore co-operate fully and maintain open relationships with all regulatory authorities.

As contractors we will: -

- Wherever possible use appropriate methods, equipment and techniques that minimise our impact on the environment whilst fulfilling our contractual obligations. This includes our commitment to preventing pollution.
- Aim to minimise the waste of materials, resources and energy, and dispose responsibly of any waste products arising from our activities.
- Seek to influence other contractors and client contractors in environmental matters.

As a competent contractor we will: -

- Develop system with the efficient use of materials, tools and energy held in mind.
- Where appropriate, seek to influence clients and other designers in areas where solutions could be adopted that are more environmentally considerate.

As employers we will: -

- Consistently seek to increase the awareness of all our employees and sub-contractors of our aim to conserve, and where possible, enhance the environment.

SIXENSE Limited continually develops, and regularly reviews environmental objectives and targets which are monitored to measure our commitment to continually improving our environmental performance.

We will review our Environmental Policy on a regular basis.
